

Fergus Gracey

Publications in peer reviewed journals

Wilson, B, Gracey, F and Bainbridge, K (2001) "Cognitive recovery from 'persistent vegetative state'", Brain Injury, 15(12), 1083-1092.

MacNiven, J, Poz, R, Bainbridge, K, Gracey, F, and Wilson, B (2003) "Emotional adjustment following cognitive recovery from 'persistent vegetative state': psychological and personal perspectives", Brain Injury, 17(6), 525-533.

Wilson, B.A., Berry, E., Gracey, F., Harrison, C., Stow, I., Macniven, J., Weatherley, J. & Young A.W. (2005) Egocentric Disorientation Following Bilateral Parietal Lobe Damage. Cortex, 41, 547-554

Gracey, F., Brentnall, S., & Megoran, R. (2005). "No room for error?": Identity, cognitive therapy and rehabilitation of executive impairment following TBI: An illustrative single case. Journal of the International Neuropsychological Society, 11(S2), 77-78.

Dawkins, N., Cloherty, M., Gracey, F. and Evans, J.J. (2006) An evaluation of the validity of the HADS for use in acquired brain injury. Brain Injury, 20 (12), 1235-1239

Gracey, F., Oldham, P. and Kritzinger, R (2007) Finding out if "the 'me' will shut down": Successful cognitive-behavioural therapy of seizure-related panic symptoms following subarachnoid haemorrhage: A single case report. Neuropsychological Rehabilitation, 17(1), 106-119.

Yeates, G, Henwood, K., Gracey, F and Evans, J.J. (2007) Awareness of disability after acquired brain injury (ABI) and the family context. Neuropsychological Rehabilitation, 17(2), 151-173.

Yeates, G.N., Henwood, K., Gracey, F. and Evans, J.J. (2006) Denial of disability after acquired brain injury (ABI): subjectivity within the subjective context. Neuropsychology, 20, 175-189.

Dewar, B.K. and Gracey, F. (2007) "Am not was": Cognitive behavioural therapy for adjustment and identity change following herpes simplex encephalitis. Neuropsychological Rehabilitation – Special Issue: Encephalitis. 17(4/5), 602-620.

Yeates, G., Hamill, M., Sutton, L., Psaila, K., Gracey, F., Mohamed, S. & O'Dell, J. (2008) Dysexecutive Problems and Interpersonal Relating Following Frontal Brain Injury: Reformulation and Compensation in Cognitive Analytic Therapy (CAT). Neuro-Psychoanalysis, 10 (1), 43-58.

Yeates, G.N., Gracey, F. and Collicutt McGrath, J. (2008) A Biopsychosocial deconstruction of 'Personality Change' following Acquired Brain Injury. Neuropsychological Rehabilitation – Special Issue: The self and identity in rehabilitation, Volume 18 (5 & 6), pp. 566-589.

Gracey, F., Palmer, S., Rous, B., Psaila, K., Shaw, K., O'Dell, J., Cope, J. and Mohamed, S. (2008) "Feeling part of things": Personal construction of self after brain injury. Neuropsychological Rehabilitation – Special Issue: The self and identity in rehabilitation. Volume 18 (5 & 6), pp 627-650.

Gracey, F., Evans, J. J. and Malley, D (in press) Capturing process and outcome in complex rehabilitation interventions: a 'Y-Shaped' model. Neuropsychological Rehabilitation.

Brindley, R. and Gracey, F. (in prep, invited paper) Levels of Meaning and Memory: Exploration of Autobiographical Memory Retrieval using SenseCam Within a Cognitive-Behavioural Therapeutic Intervention. Memory.

Palmer, S., Cooper, J., Cope, J., Prince, J., Malley, D. and Gracey, F. (submitted) It's the small things that matter: integrating 'doing' and 'meaning' in rehabilitation.

Books

B.A. Wilson, F. Gracey, A. Bateman and J.J. Evans (in press for June 2009) Neuropsychological Rehabilitation: Theory, Models, Therapy and Outcome. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press.

Peer reviewed conference presentations

Adlam, A-L. R., Adams, M., Rous, R., Bateman, A., Yeates, G. and Gracey, F. The Bangor Gambling Task: A useful clinical tool in the assessment of decision-making in survivors of head injury? Poster presented at the Society for Research in Rehabilitation Winter meeting, Derby, UK, on 3rd February 2009.

F. Gracey, S. Palmer, D. Malley, C. Keohane, J. Cooper, L. Prince, S. Brentnall, F. Ashworth, J. Cope, J. O'Dell, C. Threadgold, B. Rous, A. Bateman, J. Evans, B.A. Wilson (2008) Cases Illustrating a "Y-Shaped" Model of Identity and Participation Change Processes in Holistic Rehabilitation of Brain Injury. Paper presented at the Fifth Satellite Symposium on Neuropsychological Rehabilitation, The Neuropsychological Rehabilitation Special Interest Group of the WFNR, Foz do Iguacu, Brazil, on 7th-8th July 2008

Gracey, F. Rous, B., Yeates, G., Turnbull, O. and Bowman, C. (2007) Changes in emotion based decision making following brain injury and clinical implications. Paper presented at BABCP conference, symposium on The Role of the Body in Mood Disorders and Brain Injury. University of Sussex, September 2007.

Psaila, K., Gracey, F., O'Dell, J., Cope, J., Mohamed, S. and Palmer, S. (2006) Constructing selves after Acquired Brain Injury (ABI): Capturing identity change in neuropsychological rehabilitation using a personal construct approach. Paper presented at the 3rd Satellite Symposium on Neuropsychological Rehabilitation, Liechtenstein, July 2006.

Other recent workshops and presentations

J.J. Evans and F. Gracey (2008) Application of Cognitive Behavioural Therapy in the context of Neuro-Rehabilitation. Pre-conference workshop at the BABCP annual conference, Edinburgh, 15 July 2008.

J.J. Evans and F. Gracey (2008) Neuro-cognition, disability and challenges for the cognitive model in CBT. Invited symposium chaired at the BABCP annual conference, Edinburgh, 15-19 July 2008.

F. Gracey (2008) Psychotherapy approaches in brain injury rehabilitation. Paper presented at BPS Division of Neuropsychology post qualification training day 'Perfecting Practice - Issues in the practice of Clinical Neuropsychology in the NHS'. Preston, 20 June 2008.

F. Gracey (2008) Adjustment and self-esteem, and the treatments to facilitate adjustment. Paper presented at UK Stroke Research Network Meeting, Nottingham, 15 September 2008.

Gracey, F (2007) Understanding and working with identity change following brain injury: from 'unimaginable lands' to meaningful social identity. Workshop presented at the Brain Injury Rehabilitation Trust conference, Leeds, 27-28 September 2007.